RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

2025 - Present Postdoctoral Research Fellow

Grady Trauma Project, Emory School of Medicine

Advisor: Dr. Abigail Powers Lott

A large-scale clinical research program studying civilian trauma based at Grady Memorial Hospital and the broader Atlanta community with the goal of understanding the biological, psychological, and social effects of trauma exposure and posttraumatic stress disorder.

Together promoting Health and Resilience through Interventions, Voice, & Empowerment (THRIVE) Lab, Emory School of Public Health

Advisor: Dr. Briana Woods-Jaeger

Work with community stakeholders to conduct research that promotes healing and resilience through strength-based solutions grounded in cultural humility.

2026 Project Trauma-Informed Data Science for Abuse Prevention in Lives of Women
 Nell Hodgson Woodruff School of Nursing, Emory University
Principal Investigators: Dr. Sangmi Kim and Dr. Ran Xiao
 Project TIDAL is an NIH-funded R25 study (R25NR021324-01) with the goal to train early career researchers who contribute to reducing maternal morbidity and mortality caused by intimate partner violence and intimate partner homicide by harnessing digital health technologies and big data analytics such as machine learning and natural language processing.

2026 Forefronts in Substance Abuse During Pregnancy, Postpartum, & Pediatrics
Hosted by Magee Womens Institute and Sanford Burnham Prebys
 This NIH/NIDA-sponsored program provides conceptual education, expert-guided discussions, and research training in the methods necessary for studying pregnant people with or at risk for Substance Abuse Disorders (SAD) and their neonates, toddlers, and children, as well as the mechanisms of and therapeutic strategies to alleviate the suffering from SAD.

2020- 2025 Graduate Student
 Biosocial Underpinnings in Learning & Development (BUILD) Lab,
 Emory University Psychology Department
Advisor: Dr. Patricia Brennan

2023 Frontiers in Addiction Research and Pregnancy
Hosted by Magee Womens Institute and San Diego State University
 An NIH/NIDA sponsored advanced training course that provides hands-on lab training and lecture series on conducting research, intervention, and assessment of pregnant women with substance abuse disorders and improving child/familial outcomes.

2018-2020 Research Fellow

Yale Child Study Center, Social and Affective Neuroscience of Autism Program
Supervisors: Dr. Kataryzna Chawarska, Dr. Suzanne Macari, Dr. Kelly Powell

CLINICAL EXPERIENCE

2025-Present Postdoctoral Resident

Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences, Emory School of Medicine

- Conduct diagnostic assessments for multiple research projects
- Co-lead 6-week stress reduction intervention for trauma-exposed postpartum women
- Administer and train others on relational savoring, a brief, one-on-one, single session, mindfulness-based intervention done with postpartum women
- Provide crisis support for participants experiencing suicidal ideation

2023-2025 Intern

Child and Adolescent Mood Program (CAMP), Psychiatry Department, Emory School of Medicine

Directors: Dr. Noriel Lim & Dr. Edward Craighead

Supervisors: Joya Hampton-Anderson, Ph.D., Devon LoParo, Ph.D, Meeka Maier, Ph.D, Julie Pace, Ph.D., Lindsey Stewart, Ph.D., Erin Jones, Ph.D., Katie Cullum, Ph.D.

- Provided weekly individual therapy and parent training
- Conducted psychoeducational and psychodiagnostics assessments

2024-2025 Study Clinician

Multi-Level Mechanisms of Behavioral Activation in Adolescent Depression

Principal Investigators: Allison LoPilato, Ph.D. & Michael Treadway, Ph.D.

This study aims to provide insight into the neural and behavioral targets of intervention for reducing avoidance behavior with behavioral activation.

- Conducted behavioral activation therapy both outside and inside an MRI scanner

2024-2025 Counselor

Child OCD Program at Emory (COPE), Emory School of Medicine

Supervisor: Allison LoPilato, Ph.D.

COPE with Courage is a one-week camp for youth ages of 9-14 with anxiety, OCD, and/or emotion regulation difficulties with the goal of providing evidence-based treatment in an engaging environment that feels less like “therapy” and more like camp.

2024-2025 Group Therapist

Supervisor: Katie Cullum, Ph.D.

- Co-led dialectical behavior therapy group for adults

- 2022-2023 Clinician
 Springmont Montessori School
Supervisor: Ann Van Buskirk, Ph.D.
- Provided weekly individual therapy to elementary and middle school students
 - Provided group therapy and psychoeducation
 - Helped develop psychoeducational programming for students and teacher training programs

- 2021-2023 Clinician
 Emory Psychological Center
Supervisors: Steven Snow, Ph.D., Ann Abramowitz, Ph.D., Cynthia Messina, Ph.D., Marietta Collins, Ph.D., Christine Hall, Ph.D.
- Provided individual therapy and psychological testing and parent training for families
 - Conducted comprehensive psychoeducation evaluations
 - Provided stress management training and assisted with the design of a structured, three-session stress management program

SUPERVISION EXPERIENCE

- 2025-Present Supervisor
 Emory School of Medicine
- 2025 Supervisor
 Emory Child and Adolescent Psychiatry
- 2023 Assessment Supervision
 Emory University Psychological Center, Atlanta, GA
- 2022 Therapy Mentor
 Emory University Psychological Center, Atlanta, GA
- 2022 Mock Therapy Supervisor
 Emory University Psychological Center, Atlanta, GA

THERAPY MODALITIES

- Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (including trauma-focused CBT, Coping Cat, and Cool Kids)
- Dialectical Behavior Therapy
- Behavioral Activation
- Skills Training in Affective & Interpersonal Regulation Narrative Therapy

ASSESSMENT TRAININGS

- Clinician-Administered PTSD Scale for DSM-5 (CAPS-5)
- Autism Diagnostic Observation Schedule (ADOS)
- Kiddie Schedule for Affective Disorders and Schizophrenia (K-SADS)

- Structured Clinical Interview for DSM-5 (SCID)
- Intelligence and Cognitive Assessments: Weschler Scales, Kaufman Tests of Educational Achievement, and Woodcock-Johnson measures

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Fall 2026 Invited Lecturer

Georgia Institute of Technology, School of Biological Sciences

Summer 2025 Invited Lecturer

Summer Opportunity for Academic Research Virtual Bootcamp, Laney Graduate School

Spring Teaching Assistant

2024 & 2025 Advanced Topics in Abnormal Psychology Seminar: Autism Spectrum Disorder, Emory University Psychology Department

Fall 2024 Instructor

National Science Foundation Research Experiences for Undergraduates: Mind Brain Body & Behavior

NSF-REU is a program that funds research opportunities for undergraduate students. Emory University's NSF-REU program is a year-long research experience in psychology complemented by graduate school preparation.

Summers Instructor

2024 & 2023 Introduction to Psychology (PSYC 111), Emory University Psychology Department

Summers Division Lead Instructor

2022 – 2024 *Laney Graduate School, Emory University
